

EYFS home learning ideas week commencing 06/07/20

Phonics

Practise your word and sound walls.

This week we are going to look at the graphemes

ar, or, ur, ow

Watch Geraldine the giraffe on you tube for the sounds ar, or, ur and ow.

Write as many words as you can that have the ar, or, ur and ow sound in them and then try to make a sentence.

Here are some examples - for, fork, cord, cork, sort, born, worn, fort, cornet, torn, fur, burn, urn, curl, turnip, turn, surf, bar, car, bark, card, hard, park, market, farmyard, now, down, owl, cow, how, towel, bow, row.

Maths

Continue to create your number book - recap below!

The challenge for the next few weeks is to make a book where each page will be all about numbers 1 - 10, for example the first page will be about number one, the children can collect one item from the garden or around the house and stick it on their page, they can draw a picture of item, write the number one and write the word - one. Continue with number two and so on ...

Practise number formation to 10 - please see my video for guidance!

Our theme this week is 'feel safe, feel happy'.

Please see below for some lovely writing activities and lots of others.

Write your worries away!

Ask a grown up to help you write your worries down & put them in a jar. Discuss them with your family and find solutions together. Tear them up if you can make them go away!

Bubble Fun

Can you mix some bubble mixture? Can you make a bubble snake? Listen to the relaxing, bubbly sounds.

Cotton Bud Shapes

Relax and unwind and use the cotton buds to create a dotty painting.

Name is the game!

Draw your name in large bubble writing or print it off in a fancy font! Write LOTS of words all about you inside or around your name in lots of different colours.

Perfect Posters!

Decorate a poster and create your own quote that you can repeat every day to make you feel happy!

Smile or Frown!

Can you all make a list of things that make you smile and things that make you sad. How can we solve any problems and make people stop worrying for a while? Can you also think of lots of different words for each emotion?

Superheroes

Design your own superhero! Give them amazing powers and a colourful cape.

Proud Clouds

Write down reasons that you are proud onto clouds and display them on the window! Read them and smile!

Use your Senses!

Go on a relaxing senses walk with your family and record what you can hear, see, smell and touch!
