

THE FORGOTTEN GARDENS OF EASTON LODGE

24 April Open Day: leaves and blossom

Visitors can relax and enjoy a lovely day at the Gardens, seeing the fresh leaves on the trees, the new trees planted and the blossom on the fruit trees in the kitchen garden.

We have a range of lovely specimen trees at the Gardens – including the cedar planted by Edward VII and unusual oaks. The acers look particularly stunning at this time of year and there are flowers on the magnolias and blossom on the fruit trees.

Visitors will enjoy the fruit tree and pollinators identification challenges set by the PTES for orchards participating in their first national Orchards Blossom Day.
